Work Examples

3PV's facilitation approach is grounded in equity, inclusion, and participatory decision-making. Some examples include:

Scaffolding an initiative with a national government entity around tough conversations and rebuilding their human resources capacity to increase their BIPOC staff from 32% to their goal of 50% by 2026.

Facilitating tough conversations and leadership development for a 50-member cohort of a national government entity, over a two-year period, that led to programming between the executive team and over 200 protection officers, and increasing community advisory capacity by 100%.

Designing a multi-day team retreat for a department of a national government entity (approx. 35 person team) grappling to embody the organization's new mission, vision, and values. Focused the material on healing, trust building, and cross-departmental collaboration.
